

Benjamin Russell, speaking of the report from Washington that President Harrison had decided to strike a last blow at Canada by abolishing the bonding privileges now enjoyed by the Canadian railroads, said the threat came so often that Canadian men prepared for it. There is no disputing the fact, he said, that an abolition of such privileges would be a serious blow to the Canadian trade, but unless Canada would submit willingly to a very one-sided arrangement the blow would operate both ways.

THE ORLEANSISTS ACTIVE.

They still hope to overthrow the French Republic.

LONDON, Dec. 31.—That the Orleansists have not abandoned hope of being able to overthrow the French republic as a result of the Panama scandal is shown by the fact that the Count de Paris has telegraphed his son, the Duke of Orleans, traveling in India and China, to hasten his return in order to take part in Orleans councils. It is not known in what direction the Orleansists propose to push their work.

Suspended Tariff Duties.

OTTAWA, Dec. 31.—The government has suspended the operation of its act making discriminating duty on molasses, and sugar imported indirectly in competition with those imported directly from the country where produced. It is understood this action is taken to avoid what might be construed as unfriendly legislation aimed at the United States.

FATALITY AMONG PRISONERS.

Causes the Arrest of Arkansas Penitentiary Officials.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 31.—On account of the unusual mortality in the penitentiary, Mayor Fletcher has instructed the city physician to make a thorough sanitary inspection of that institution. He recommended the enforcement of thorough sanitary regulations. As a result, disinfectants were taken to the prison this morning and the convicts set to work cleaning up the premises. The mayor has directed the arrest of Secretary of State Chism, and Attorney-General Atkinson of the penitentiary board, Prison-inspector Carroll, S. M. Appleton, who represents the leaders of the prison and Alvin Robertson, warden, on a charge of violating the sanitary ordinances.

The mayor declares the mortality in the prison is the culmination of the long system and the responsibility rests with the state. He intends to have every person arrested who has anything to do with the management of the prison except the governor. So far no arrests have been made.

SEARCHING FOR CLUES.

Two Men Arrested for the Brighton, Cal., Murder.

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 31.—Officers are still searching for clues as to the murders of Miss E. O. Ayres, operator and station agent at Brighton. Word was received this morning from Auburn that Sheriff Conroy had arrested two young men in that place last night on suspicion, but while on the way to jail one of them jumped from a buggy and escaped. The names of the men are Ed Brady and Harry Wagner who reside in this city. When taken to jail Brady had in his possession a lady's gold watch and locket. He claims the gold watch was given him by an uncle in Colorado county, but there is reason to believe it is the missing gold watch of Miss Ayres.

AFTER THE HANDS.

Two United States Marshals Captured But They Make Their Escape.

LAREDO, Tex., Dec. 31.—A telegram received at military headquarters states that Rosendo Guerrero and Marcial Benavides, United States deputy marshals, were captured by bandits last Friday, but escaped. Guerrero has arrived at Aquilares and the other is making his way toward Laredo. It is not known where they became separated. Some interesting news is looked for within the next twenty-four hours.

STRAFE INFLATION.

One Woman Shoots Herself on Account of Love for Another.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—A strange story of one woman's infatuation for another came to light this morning when Mrs. Etta Harrington tried, probably successfully, to kill herself. She allowed a Miss Carson to separate her and husband and lavished all the money she could get in presents on the object of her adoration. Last July they quarrelled and separated. Mrs. Harrington tried in vain to secure a reconciliation, and finally shot herself. It is believed fatal.

A MYTHICAL STORY.

Tascoit, the Murderer of Snell, Said to Be in Alaska.

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 31.—Julius Beauvais, a miner from Alaska, says W. B. Tascoit, the alleged murderer of William Snell in Chicago, is in Alaska and makes no secret of his identity. He declares the impression to go out that he did not commit the murder, but for a consideration is taking the blame to shield the real murderer, who is a person of position and influence.

Mr. Taylor Gives a Dinner.

There was a pleasant gathering at the Walker last night at a dinner given by J. C. Taylor, of Taylor & Windsor, to the agents and attaches of his office, and their friends. Shedd, Mr. F. C. Wallace, H. B. Windsor, Mr. M. L. Knight, Mrs. Mayall, Mrs. R. J. Thomas, Messrs. Cobb, Donnellan and others. #### The Marquis de Cussy, a Political Prisoner.

He is said to have been judged by their friends, that the commercial instincts of the English were due to him, the philosophy of Germany was born of him, and Mohammedanism sprang from him.

ANXIOUS TO SEE JOSEPH.

Choyinski Creates a Commotion Among Salt Lake Sports.

HE WILL ARRIVE TODAY.

Prospects of a Fight Between Williams and Creedan.

Richards, the "Cyclone," Astonishes the Ogden Natives—The Salt Lake Fencers—There Will be Several Contests for the League Medal.

Admirers of the manly art are on the qui here over the expected arrival of Joe Choyinski today. The local sports are well acquainted with Jackson, Corbett, Mitchell, Dempsey and nearly all of the noted pugilists, because they have been here several times, but this is the first visit of "Brave Joe" to Salt Lake.

Choyinski deserves the title by which he is known the world over. He put up two great fights with Jim Corbett, and although defeated, he stands well up with the best men in the country. His last battle was with George Godfrey, and Choyinski won, after a desperate fight. The fair-haired Hebrew is a great favorite here, and one reason for this is because he is a westerner. His admirers are talking of giving him a reception tomorrow night, after he gives his exhibition at the People's theatre, for which a programme of unusual interest has been prepared.

The feature of it will be a set-to between the San Francisco and Frank Fitzgibbon. There has been some talk of having Jim Williams meet Choyinski, but it is not likely that anything will come of it. Should the Utah champion desire a go, however, it is understood that the management stands willing to offer a purse for a limited number of rounds. Parson Davies, who was here a short time ago with Peter Jackson, will arrive with Choyinski, who is under his management.

Creedan and Williams.

It is now the general impression that Jim Williams' next fight will be with Dan Creedan, the Australian, who recently arrived in San Francisco. Many of Williams' friends think he is acting wisely in meeting the Australian before taking in Alex Greigins, under the mistaken idea that he will have an easier task. Greigins has now fought Costello twice and he certainly did not have any advantage in either fight. Creedan, however, found no difficulty in whipping the Buffalo, and in addition to numerous other victories fought an eight round draw with Jim Hall.

Richards Victorious.

Frank Richards, the colored pugilist of this city, fairly covered himself with glory at Ogden on Friday night when he knocked Flint out at the Utah Athletic club in a round and a half. Richards was not in "fix" but he put up a fight that astonished the Ogden people. He returned home yesterday.

The Fencing Medal.

THE HERALD's mention of a gold medal for Salt Lake fencers, to be offered by the Amateur Fencers' League of America, caused a sensation, and three men are mentioned in connection with chances to win the coveted prize. One of the rules of the league is "Section 2—An amateur fencer is one who has never competed for money in public or private exhibition nor given instruction for money. A fencer who is known to frequently assist an instructor, or who is known to habitually attend a salle d'armes, assisting an instructor in the discharge of his duties, whether such assistance or work be paid for or not cannot be considered an amateur."

This will make things more even and give all the amateur swordsmen of the territory a chance. The semi-weekly practices and contests continue to attract a great many fencers who want to get in trim for the coming event.

Contrast Between the Old and New Methods.

The Way a Patient Improperly Treated For Catarrh Trouble Describes His Experience.

One of the many well-known residents of this city, who has been afflicted with the disease for many years, and who has testified in no uncertain terms as to the superior skill and the rational scientific treatment of Dr. Mansfield and De Monco, has a rather shocking story to tell of his experience in the treatment of his catarrh trouble.

"Why they burned my nose out," he said. "I went a few years ago to doctors who widely advertised and claimed to be specialists, and my disease was so much increased by their treatment that I thought I never could get any relief. It seemed as if they were running red-hot iron into my nose, and the pain and torture I suffered under the treatment was terrible. I don't know what their treatment was, but I know it was not scientific, and I know a number of my friends who were treated in a similar manner, and who did not receive the least particle of relief. In fact, the disease was increased by the barbarous methods employed."

The first course in the treatment of the disease is the use of the old style cathartics, "specialists." The most heroic treatments are given to the helpless sufferers—strong acids and electrodes are used to such an extent that the delicate portions of the nose are burned out, and when an operation is to be performed the patient is subjected to the most desperate wrenching, tearing and twisting.

One great charm of Dr. Mansfield and De Monco's treatment is its mild and soothing nature. It is the palliative method as opposed to the heroic. It is a process of constant cleansing, healing and soothing of the membranes inflamed and irritated by the poisonous catarrhal secretions. Catarrh is both a constitutional and a local disease and the membranous surface, which the local treatment usually cures, must be kept clean from poisonous accumulations.

AMONG THE RAILWAYS.

And for Geddes Knows Nothing About the R. G. W. Extension.

A Ticket Broker's Pool Will Probably Be Organized—The Southern Pacific Shops—Local Railway Notes.

A HERALD reporter yesterday called upon Auditor Geddes, of the Rio Grande Western, to ascertain whether that gentleman could throw any light upon the statement telegraphed from Denver to the effect that the Western intended building to the coast at once. Mr. Geddes smiled when his attention was called to the matter and said, "I know nothing at all about it."

The Southern Pacific Shops.

The Southern Pacific company yesterday set the stakes which will mark the boundaries of its Ogden shops. Superintendent Knapp will return from Sacramento today, and it is expected he will bring orders to proceed at once with the great work. The Anderson Pressed Brick company has delivered three cars of pressed brick on the ground, and will send the balance in as fast as practicable.

A Ticket Broker's Pool.

It is expected that the local ticket brokers will form a pool in a few days for the purpose of keeping up a regular passenger business to Colorado points. If the pool is not formed within a week a big war will follow, and the tariff for Salt Lake to Denver will go down to $3 at the first crack.

Mr. Wurtele Improving.

The special car of Superintendent C. E. Wurtele of the Wyoming division of the Union Pacific, returned to Ogden yesterday morning from California. The superintendent will remain in Los Angeles this winter. Charley Henry, who accompanied him west and returned with the car, says Wurtele is already much improved in health.

READ WHAT MR. COLUMBUS KNOWS HAS TO SAY ABOUT HIS CASE.

Inflammation Caused by Catarrh Had Closed the Lacrimal Ducts.

"I had for a number of months been troubled with severe pain in my head extending from the back part of my forehead, but more severe just above the eyes and across the temples. My eyes pained me constantly and became very weak and sore, in fact raw, as it seemed to me. I shed tears a scolding water. Upon rising in the morning I would have to soak my eyes with water before I could open them. The physicians told me I had granulation of the eye lids."

"My nose was stopped up and so raw and sore that I was compelled to breathe through my mouth. My throat was sore and swollen, and at this stage, my condition was almost unbearable."

"The trouble was greatly aggravated by frequent colds, I caught cold easily. The attack became more acute, and though I did everything I could to obtain relief, I could not find any."

"It was in this condition that I went to Dr. Mansfield and De Monco. I feared I should do nothing for me, as my condition was so bad I was hopeless of a cure. However, the cure was effected and I improved very rapidly. All the painful and distressing symptoms of which I had complained have disappeared. I am rejoiced at the result obtained in my case, for to-day I can say I am entirely cured."

"I give me pleasure to recommend the treatment of Drs. Mansfield and De Monco, because it has been more than satisfactory, and I hope that all who read this statement are suffering from catarrh in any of its phases will follow my example."

IT IS A BOON TO READERS.

We ask every reader to consider the offer made in our advertising columns of a complete set of the Americanized Encyclopedia Britannica for the small sum of $5.00 on delivery of the complete set, and $2.50 a month for ten months. This proposition is made solely on condition of your subscribing to this paper for one year; all our present subscribers are entitled to all the advantages of this offer. Such a proposition was never made by any newspaper before, and the fact that we are able to make it is a striking illustration of the wealth producing progress of the world in this wonderful age of electricity and steam. The cost of producing the encyclopedia has considerably exceeded $1,000,000. That such a work should be placed at the disposal of every resident of this section at a price so small that the saving of eight cents daily for eight months will cover it, and on terms so easy as to involve no inconvenience of economy—this surely is a triumph of modern intelligence and labor combination.

What the Americanized Encyclopedia Britannica is, however, is a matter as to which information is not generally diffused. The Encyclopedia Britannica is regarded by all students and literary men as the standard reference authority of the English speaking world. For nearly one hundred and twenty years it has stood at the head of its peculiar class of literature, employing on its nine editions the most celebrated writers of successive generations, and sparing no expense necessary to secure the services of the foremost men in every department of human knowledge. Essays, dissertations and descriptions by such men as Macaulay, Jeffrey, Leigh Hunt, Faraday, Mill, Tyndall, Huxley, Clifford and Farrar are imbedded in its pages, making it not only an encyclopedia of facts, but a most delightful assortment of literary treasures as well.

This is the work which forms the basis of the Americanized Encyclopedia Britannica, which is, as its name imports, the original Britannica remodelled, amended and, where necessary, enlarged to fit it to occupy in American homes the place held by the original work among the people of England. Articles on subjects peculiarly interesting to Americans—such as the histories and descriptions of American states and cities, accounts of military operations on American soil, descriptions of peculiarly American industries and institutions—have been entirely rewritten and greatly enlarged, the space allotted to matters uninteresting except to Englishmen being correspondingly reduced. A most complete series of biographies of living persons of whom no mention is made in the original work, its plan excluding notices of any but the dead—has been added, a number of new maps, including one of every state in the union, have been introduced and the entire work has been corrected to bring it into line with the progress of history and science up to the present year. The net result is a compilation that in interest and reliability surpasses the original Encyclopedia Britannica as far as that monumental work surpasses all others of its kind.
